Greetings from the College of Nursing, Adesh University, Bathinda!

Dear All,

It is our pleasure to invite you to the International Conference on “Obstetrical Emergencies – Role of Health Care Professionals in Early Identification and Timely Management” to be held on 21st and 22nd August 2025 at Adesh University, Bathinda.

ADESH UNIVERSITY

Adesh University, the flagship academic and research venture of the Adesh Foundation— a pioneer in health care, medical, and technical education— was established in the State of Punjab in July 2012 through Act No. 6 of 2012 under the Punjab Government Gazette, as per the Punjab Private Universities Policy 2010. The Adesh Foundation, founded in 1992 at Sri Muktsar Sahib, has made significant progress since its inception by offering innovative and professional courses in medical sciences, allied health sciences, management, and technical education. The Foundation has established a strong base for research and innovation, supporting faculty research projects, postgraduate dissertations, Ph.D thesis, and undergraduate research—involving both human and animal subjects.

COLLEGE OF NURSING

The College of Nursing at Adesh University offers M.Sc. Nursing, B.Sc. Nursing, Post Basic B.Sc. Nursing, GNM, and Critical Care Nursing Diploma programs.

Students benefit from excellent facilities including Wi-Fi access, internet services, and a well-equipped library with updated journals across all nursing specialties.

The College consistently produces graduates who are well-prepared to meet the responsibilities of professional nursing and midwifery. Our students are proficient in both theory and clinical practice, with training provided in areas such as Basic Medical Sciences, Super-Specialty Departments, Obstetrics and Gynaecology, Medical-Surgical Nursing, Oncology, Emergency, Paediatrics, Psychiatry and Community Health Nursing.

Clinical training is imparted at Adesh Hospital, which has a bed strength of 800, providing ample hands-on learning opportunities. Students are also going to community areas, for psychiatric training they are going to Mental Hospital Amritsar. The College of Nursing is committed to preparing competent, compassionate, and skilled nurses capable of delivering holistic, quality care.

PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP & CONFERENCE

Aim and Objectives of the Pre-Conference Workshop:

The pre-conference workshop focuses on obstetrical examination as a critical component in ensuring maternal and foetal well-being throughout pregnancy, labour, and the postpartum period. Special emphasis will be placed on the management of Postpartum Haemorrhage (PPH) — a major obstetric emergency.

- To clearly communicate the goals and purpose of the training.
- To develop the knowledge, skills, and attitudes participants are expected to gain.
- To enhance the practical skills of student nurses through active participation.

Conference Objectives:

- To emphasize the role of health care professionals in early identification and timely management of obstetrical emergencies.
- To prevent maternal and neonatal morbidity and mortality.
- To promote safe and effective care during labour and delivery.
- To control and prevent complications.
- To improve overall maternal and foetal outcomes.

Target Audience:

- Faculty Members
- Senior Residents
- Nursing Students
- Staff Nurses
